

Reservoir Sector Residents Protest Merger of Schools

Neversink and Merriman
Folk Oppose Proposal on Centralization With
Ellenville

Over two hundred determined citizens, who live in the area between New York city's Neversink and Merriman reservoirs project, have made a strong public protest against the efforts of the State Education Department to force them into school centralization with Ellenville, according to the Citizens' Fidelity Committee of Grahamsville.

After being elected general chairman of this week's public meeting, the Rev. Irving Marsland called upon Dr. Karl Messinger of Grahamsville to recount the historical aspects and recent developments of the controversial situation. In his talk to the people, Dr. Messinger informed them that, without proper notification, a conference had been called by Francis Griffin, of the State Education Department, on March 18 for the purpose of planning for the proposed Ellenville centralization set-up.

He pointed out that the conference group was undemocratically representative, there being nine employees of the department and six laymen, of which three were residents of Ellenville, participating in the planning session. He stated his belief that deliberate attempts were being made by the Education Department to invalidate the traditional "home-rule" educational policy of the state government, and he cited instances to prove this contention.

After this background review, a series of pertinent questions on the proposed centralization plans as formulated in Albany were answered by Dr. Messinger and Supervising Principal Eugene Ross. It was shown that a budget of over one-half million dollars would be necessary for each year of school operation according to plans developed in Albany, and that approximately seventy per cent of budget revenues would be derived from taxes on New York city property.

Fred Mickelsen moved that a vote on the question of joining the proposed centralization be taken. There was a unanimous negative vote on joining such centralization. An active and vigorous plan to counter action was adopted, and various committees were elected by the people to put such a plan into immediate operation. Chairman of these committees included: General publicity, Donald Busch; personal contacts, William Krump; finance, Milton Bass; evaluation, Max Ruzinski; information service, Charles Engel; and legal aspects, Andrew Lent.

Attending the meeting from Ellenville were: Supervising Principal Thomas Duffell, Henry Schipp, Joe Balotin, and Marion Hart.

Sugar-Rationing Controls

Washington, March 29 (AP)—A bill extending sugar price and rationing controls to next October 31 and guaranteeing each home user three pounds a month will go before the House and Senate Monday. The bill, worked out by a conference committee which adjusted differences between House and Senate versions, turns the sugar controls over from the O.P.A. to the Secretary of Agriculture. It permits an increase in the home use ration up to a rate of 50 pounds a year, or a little more than four pounds a month, if supplies warrant.

Black Market Arrests

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—State Tax Commission President Algeo B. Chapman said today that arrests were expected shortly in connection with an investigation of what he called unreported war-time "black market" income of $100,000. Other cases still are being probed, he added in a statement. Chapman said the state attorney general had obtained sealed grand jury informations charging a New York city knitwear corporation and one of its officers with evasion of state income taxes and business corporation franchise taxes.

Washington, March 29 (AP)—President Truman will send to the Senate next week the nomination of Stanton Griffiths, 59 year old New York investment banker, to be ambassador to Poland.

Health View Poor

Surgeon General Cites Need for Physicians, Dentists, Nurses

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Dr. Thomas Parran, U. S. surgeon general, finds the outlook for progress in improving the national health "gloomy" because of the shortage of doctors, dentists and nurses.

He urged an immediate start in increasing the output of trained personnel. Dr. Parran, head of the U. S. Public Health Service, told a Georgetown University medical audience last night that the country now has just 95,000 physicians, 117,000 dentists and ten of thousands of nurses. These shortages are increasing.

In Jail, Refused Bail

HAROLD GOTTFRIED

JOSEPH FORMAN

New York, March 29 (AP)—Joseph Forman, Harold Gottfried and William T. Stanton remained in jail today following an unsuccessful effort of counsel to obtain their release on bail pending appeal of sentences and fines given in a sugar case.

Senior Judge Learned Hand of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals denied application of defense attorneys for release of the men on bail yesterday. Counsel contended that judicial error occurred during the eight-week trial in U. S. District Court which ended Thursday.

Judge Hand's denial of the release petitions remains in effect until April 7, when the defendants will be permitted to renew their application before the full Circuit Court.

Forman, former corporation counsel of Kingston, N. Y., and Democratic chairman of Ulster county, was sentenced to a year and a day in federal prison and a fine of $5,000.

Gottfried, former president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation of Ellenville, N. Y., was sentenced to a three-year term and a $20,000 fine, and Stanton, a former O.P.A. investigator assigned to the Albany, N. Y., district, was given a prison term of a year and a day.

In addition, the corporation was fined $10,000. The three men were convicted of conspiring to influence Stanton's report of his investigation of the corporation's statement of its sugar consumption for the year of 1941, on which future sugar allotments were based, and Gottfried and the corporation were convicted of filing false statements with the O.P.A. concerning its sugar usage.

Disown Proposal

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Democratic House Committee today disowned what they called a "strike-breaking" proposal by Chairman Hartley (R-N.J.), to block a nationwide telephone strike by government injunction. In a statement indicating sharp party division on the plan, Rep. Cessford, Democrat on the labor group, said neither he nor his party colleagues had been consulted.

Dog Licenses Deadline

The office of the city clerk issued a notice today that those who have been delinquent in applying for dog licenses, have only until April 5 before summons are issued. The notice also stressed that while owners of dogs less than six months old are exempt from licensing them, such dogs must be licensed if they are allowed to run at large.

Would Help Management

Hamilton, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives says labor has the upper hand in bargaining, but the thing to do is build up management rather than trim down the unions. "This is no occasion for taking from labor that which labor already has," the Norwich, N. Y., Republican told a Colgate University audience last night. "On the contrary, it is time for giving to management such additional rights as may be necessary to place management and labor on a basis of equality."

New Paltz Teachers College Plans Selective Admissions

New Paltz Teachers College, which recently announced a return to the pre-war selective admissions program for students seeking entrance in September of this year. In making the announcement Dr. W. J. Haggerty, president of the college, pointed out that the public schools are constantly asking for better qualified young men and women to do the job of teaching in the years ahead. Dr. Haggerty added that, "although the recent action of the State Legislature in establishing minimum salaries of $2,000 to $2,500 on a statewide basis was only a first step in bringing teachers salaries to a professional level, it was an indication of rapidly growing public concern for the quality of teaching in our public schools."

The admission of students to New Paltz State Teachers College, according to the plan announced for the fall of 1947, will be based on the applicant's high school record, his scores on two tests, and his interest in children and in teaching as revealed by interviews. Arrangements for the tests and interviews have been made at Albany High School, Hempstead High School, Newburgh Free Academy, Riverhead High School and White Plains High School beginning at 9 a. m. on Saturday, April 19, and at the Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Spring Valley, and Yonkers High Schools at the same time on Saturday, April 26. The taking of tests will occupy the morning session and interviews with members of the New Paltz

on Local Card Revealed
as Ex-Paratrooper,
Ring Character

For a young man who created something of a sensation by passing out three times following a four-round knockout on the B'nai B'rith boxing card Thursday night, sharp-featured Dom Scaccia, Rome middleweight, was fairly well composed Friday afternoon at the Kingston Hospital.

The medics had assured the hard hitting amateur southpaw that he would be released from the hospital today and that meant all the difference in the world to the high strung, fast-talking former Army champion.

Scaccia, conversant to the Kingston Hospital about midnight Thursday night suffering from what doctors described as acute hysteria.

He told reporters that not only had he injured his left hand in the first round of his bout with Johnny Marchese, a middleweight, but he also was in top condition despite the fact he had trounced Al Hurlbut just a few days before in Rochester.

Wants Return Bout

Scaccia chatted freely while reclining on a hospital bed at the Army officer's pinks (he was a P.F.C. in service). The events of the past 24 hours seemed only a distant memory to him and he appeared to be more concerned about another shot at Marchese. Scaccia wanted to return bout "as soon as possible."

The hard clouting southpaw is cocky and confident and he predicts he'll stop Marchese the next time, if there is a next time. "He can't hurt me much," said Scaccia, "and if I'm in shape I'll put him away."

Whatever confidence Scaccia demonstrated is backed by a superlative war record and the fact that his defeat Thursday night was the first in four years. He flashed a batch of clippings that chronicled an outstanding ring career both in and out of service.

Fine War Record

Scaccia claims he has been in and out of service four times in the last year, serving with the marines and navy and twice in the air.

Will Tolerate Communists But Curb Actions; German Problem on Agenda Monday

Economic, Industrial Problems Are Due for Deep Discussion by Ministers

Calls for Showdown Marshall Is Desirous of Getting Action Regarding Soviet

Moscow, March 29 (AP)—The Council of Foreign Ministers agreed today to come to grips Monday with the heart of the German problem. They will try then to reach a compromise and economic unity.

In a one-hour session, the shortest of this conference thus far, the ministers agreed on a schedule for the German discussions and set up a special committee to attempt to draw up a directive on the lesser problems of the report of the Allied Control Council for Germany.

The agreed agenda for Monday, running up three weeks of proposals made thus far, was:

1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations; plus a review of the levels of industry, including industrial demilitarization.
2. The form and scope of a provisional German government.

Deputies of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers today approved a report of progress on the Austrian peace treaty which showed that of 55 proposed articles for the treaty, only 24 had been agreed.

Three Major Open Questions

The three major open questions on the treaty are the issues of German assets, frontiers, and compensation to the United Nations from property losses due to the war.

In the meeting of the deputies on Germany, meanwhile, a spokesman for the small western nations said that reparations from Germany charged that the big powers had failed to live up to Potsdam promises on reparations, and had produced only "paltry results" in deliveries from enemy capital equipment to date.

This charge and an appeal to speed the reparations were made as the ministers themselves prepared to pass on Secretary of State Marshall's proposal that they come to grips at once with the three key issues involved in the restoration of German economic unity.

Marshall Wants Action

It was learned on high authority that Marshall was determined to force an early showdown on the critical German issues, in an effort to discover upon what basis, if any, Russia was willing to make acceptable agreements.

That was said to be the strategy behind Marshall's proposal last night to focus discussion in the immediate future upon what he considered the three key problems and to set April 2 as a "target date" for decisions or deadlocks on these questions—German economic unity, provisional government and level of industry and reparations. In line with this strategy, a prominent said, the secretary was expected to suggest other deadlines as the conference progresses. They added that if the lack of accomplishment continued—and they saw good reason to think it would—then he probably would move to break off negotiations and start peace talks with Germany and Austria—and go home toward the middle of April. If prospects of doing something constructive brightened, he was reported willing to remain a reasonable time.

Reports Collyer On Broadway, but Cops Disprove It

Youth Willing to Wager $10 He Saw Recluse; Police Find Man Was Local

The search for Langley Collyer, eccentric New York recluse, which has extended from the Manhattan subways to virtually everywhere else but Antarctica, reached Kingston today, but without avail.

The short-lived search began here this morning when a young man walked into police headquarters and excitedly explained to Acting Police Lieutenant William J. Leonard that he saw a man fitting Collyer's description walking along Central Broadway below the postoffice.

Desk Sergeant James P. Martin immediately notified patrolmen of the area and Lt. Leonard suggested that the young man who supplied the information meet Officer William Messing near the postoffice and accompany him until they overtook the man.

Would Bet 10 Bucks

The informant said he would be willing to bet "ten bucks" that the man he saw was Collyer so close to his mind was the resemblance. He noticed, he said, that the man walking along Broadway, carried what appeared to be a box of crackers under one arm and that he even "wore his pants in the same manner" as seen Collyer's in newspaper pictures.

Within 10 minutes after the young man left to meet Officer Messing, however, Sergeant Martin was notified that the man in question was a local resident well known to the police.

Under Tension

Tension mounted at police headquarters during the brief interim of the search as the police and Chief Ernest A. Ross weighed the prospects of catching the man who has been the object of an intensified search in the Metropolitan area for several days. The officers appeared convinced that the description of the man was not too unlike that of Collyer, and as it turned out, it was close, but not close enough.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported today that the funeral service for Homer Collyer, blind and crippled brother of the still missing Langley Collyer, has been set for 3 p. m., Tuesday at a Manhattan funeral home.

"Only relatives will be admitted to the service," John B. McMullen, lawyer for the brothers, said last night.

Burial will be in the family plot in Cypress Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn. Collyer, 65, was found dead of natural causes a week ago yesterday in the one-time mansion.

Decision to Be Made Whether Closing Will Be Permanent

Kingston banking institutions will close all day Saturday beginning May first and extending through September. Prior to the expiration of that period another meeting of the bankers will be held to determine whether or not the Saturday closing will become permanent.

The matter of hours to be observed on Friday has not been decided upon and action will be taken individually by the governing bodies of the banks at their next meeting to decide upon what hours shall become effective on Friday.

A meeting of the presidents of the banking houses, or their representatives, was held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Kingston Trust Company and at that time the matter of closing Saturdays was discussed as well as the hours to be observed on Fridays.

The Saturday closing beginning May first was the unanimous choice of the meeting but it was stated that there was a difference of opinion as to the hours which should be observed Fridays. Some banks were in favor of closing the usual time, others were of the opinion that banks should be open later on Fridays and no decision was made in regard to that question.

The Saturday closing will be observed, beginning May first, by all commercial and savings banks and the two savings and loan associations.

Franco on the Wane

Madrid, March 29 (AP)—An authoritative source said today the Spanish cabinet is expected to issue a decree Tuesday declaring Spain a "traditional monarchy," and, in effect, recognizing the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as merely a temporary one. This informant said that while the cabinet discussed the decree last night it probably would not make any announcement until April 1, Spain's "Victory Day," the eighth anniversary of Franco's victory in the civil war and his assumption of full power. He said such a decree, when and if announced and made effective, would be the first public acknowledgment by the Franco regime of the "temporary nature of the present government."

Boys Deflate Tires

Complaints that boys were letting air from tires of cars parked in back of the Montgomery Ward store were under investigation of local police and Friday, Officer Gerald Every said he was notified last night of the prankish activities of the boys by a man who had chased them from the lot. The police believe it may be the same group of youngsters charged with a similar pranksmen some time ago.

Local Telephone Operators Observed Family Night

Telephone operators at the Kingston office of the New York Telephone Company proved most gracious hosts, while doing business as usual, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings when Family Night was observed. Members of the local Traffic Department escorted approximately 1,200 throughout the building explaining the switchboards and their operations and answering questions. Other facilities, including the rest rooms, locker room and kitchen, were included in the tour. Refreshments were served the guests in the luncheon room.

Mary A. Keefe, chief operator, welcomed families of the employees and Helen M. Barry and Adelaide R. Gilbert were chairman and assistant chairman respectively of the Employees' Committee.

Other members comprising the committee were Verna L. Carroll, Helen E. Darcy, Catherine L. Kaznowski, Rose E. Madjeski, Caroline H. Mohr, Rose S. Moore, Margaret A. Murphy, Henrietta W. Rose, Mary P. Schick. It was brought out during the course of explanation that the Kingston telephone office requires approximately 170 girls to serve the telephone needs of the city and nearby territory. These people are divided about equally between long distance operating and local operating, with small groups doing information and clerical work.

Un-American Activities Committee Expects to Vote Against Outlawing Reds

Agent of Russia Party in America Has Record of Working in Soviet Interest

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, March 29 (AP)—A member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said today the group may vote 4 to 3 against outlawing the Communist party, but is sure to recommend drastic new legal curbs on Communist maneuvering in this country.

The member, who withheld the use of his name, said the seven-member committee may be unanimous in support of anti-Communist legislation short of making the whole party an illegal organization.

Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.), told reporters the results of a week of hearings "will have to crystallize before the committee can adequately decide what it is going to do about outlawing the Communist party."

The committee made public last night a report which it said furnished historical proof running back to 1919 that the party in this country is "the agent" of Russia.

The report listed 92 documents which it called "typical directives from Moscow affecting the Communist movement in the United States." Thomas said these were proof that the party is "a fifth column" in this country.

Will Use Exposure

If various members pool their ideas, the committee may report that it can fight Communism vigorously to expose it and also by:

Saying in one or more laws, with appropriate penalties, that it is illegal to urge or conspire to overthrow the government by unconstitutional methods or by force and violence.

Tightening up on fingerprinting of aliens, on passports and visas, and on registration.

Strengthening the law against treason to get at borderline cases. Requiring the Communist party to publish its membership lists and sources of income.

Recommending that the F.B.I. be strengthened and perhaps that it be made independent of the Justice Department.

Hearings on bills to outlaw the Communist party ended yesterday with a Communist protest that the committee is interested only in "character assassination."

That was the statement of Peter V. Cacchione, Communist member of the New York city council. Cacchione had asked to testify, had been allotted the time and then cancelled his appearance.

Everybody Wants Money

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Senators Reed (R-Kan.), and Cordell (R-Ore.), complained today that government agencies are battling every attempt of Congress to whittle down government costs. "The people very definitely voted for economy in government in the last election," Reed told a reporter, "but we have yet to get any real help from any government department, bureau, agency or official. His statement was read by Norman Schrank, secretary of the Brooklyn Communist party.

Would Help Vets Florida Senator Proposes $500 Tax Exemption as Special Relief

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.), proposed today that Congress give special income tax relief to World War 2 veterans who receive no benefits under the G.I. "Bill of Rights."

Rogers, who piloted the terminal pay legislation through the last Congress, estimated 75 per cent of the ex-servicemen get nothing under veterans aid laws, yet must help foot the tax bill for benefits received by the remaining 25 per cent.

Gardenaids Will Travel to All Parts of the World by Plane

Shipment of Gardenaid tractors from Kingston by air was instituted Friday by the Eastern Tractor Company when Henry Fuhrman, Eastern Tractor's New Baltimore dealer, flew in a twin engine Grumman plane to pick up a cargo of tractors and parts.

The plane was landed at the Kingston-Ulster Airport just off Route 9-W shortly before noon and after the cargo had been stowed for the return trip, Mr. Fuhrman and his two crew members were guests of Eastern Tractor Company at dinner.

On hand to greet Mr. Fuhrman and his crew was J. J. Carroll, president of the company; Kenneth L. Hickey, acting treasurer; and company; Henry Woltersheim, plant superintendent; John McFadden, traffic manager, and Barney Barogin, assistant sales manager.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Don Williams were also present to witness the inauguration of the air cargo service by the company.

Shipment by air of a sample order of tractors from New York is now en route to China and the company is now working out a plan which contemplates shipment of tractors, parts and implements by Air Cargo Freight to foreign countries. If money exchange requirements can be worked out, the company proposes to ship a considerable amount of its products by air to distant points.

Shipment of parts and implements for use with the tractor can be greatly speeded up through the use of air transport and it is possible to ship the completely assembled Gardenaid machine by plane.

New Paltz Teachers College Plans Selective Admissions

New Paltz State Teachers College has recently announced a return to the pre-war selective admissions program for students seeking entrance in September of this year. In making the announcement Dr. W. J. Haggerty, president of the college, pointed out that the public schools are constantly asking for better qualified young men and women to do the job of teaching in the years ahead. Dr. Haggerty added that, "although the recent action of the State Legislature in establishing minimum salaries of $2,000 to $2,500 on a statewide basis was only a first step in bringing teachers salaries to a professional level, it was an indication of rapidly growing public concern for the quality of teaching in our public schools."

The admission of students to New Paltz State Teachers College, according to the plan announced for the fall of 1947, will be based on the applicant's high school record, his scores on two tests, and his interest in children and in teaching as revealed by interviews. Arrangements for the tests and interviews have been made at Albany High School, Hempstead High School, Newburgh Free Academy, Riverhead High School and White Plains High School beginning at 9 a. m. on Saturday, April 19, and at the Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Spring Valley, and Yonkers High Schools at the same time on Saturday, April 26. The taking of tests will occupy the morning session and interviews with members of the New Paltz faculty will be held in the afternoon. An open letter addressed to graduating high school seniors calling attention to the increasingly attractive opportunities in the teaching profession for qualified applicants is being sent to all who are interested through the operation of high school principals. A similar letter addressed to high school juniors, urging them to consider the teaching profession if they believe they are interested and have the needed qualifications is also being distributed. Junior students are not asked to take the tests this year but are invited to come to the places indicated for an interview at 1:30 p. m. if they are interested.

Although the new minimum salary for teachers on a statewide basis is only $2,000 many communities have recently adopted schedules well above that figure. Members of this year's graduating class from New Paltz State Teachers College are signing contracts for their first teaching jobs at an average salary of a little more than $2,400.

"The current nation-wide interest in Teachers salaries is based primarily on public concern for the welfare of the school children of the country," according to President Haggerty. "The people are willing to pay more for teachers and at the same time they want more and better qualified teachers. Better teachers for the children and better salaries for the teachers go hand in hand. We feel that the institutions preparing teachers must do their part in turning out the best qualified graduates possible."

Will Tolerate Communists But Curb Actions; German Problem on Agenda Monday

Economic, Industrial Problems Are Due for Deep Discussion by Ministers

Calls for Showdown

Marshall Is Desirous of Getting Action Regarding Soviet

Moscow, March 29 (AP)—The Council of Foreign Ministers agreed today to come to grips Monday with the heart of the German problem. They will try then to reach a compromise and economic unity.

In a one-hour session, the shortest of this conference thus far, the ministers agreed on a schedule for the German discussions and set up a special committee to attempt to draw up a directive on the lesser problems of the report of the Allied Control Council for Germany.

The agreed agenda for Monday, running up three weeks of proposals made thus far, was:

1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations; plus a review of the levels of industry, including industrial demilitarization.

2. The form and scope of provisions on reparations, and had deputies of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers today approved a report of progress on the Austrian peace treaty which showed that of 55 proposed articles for the treaty, only 24 had been agreed.

Three Major Issues

The three major open questions on the treaty are the issues of German assets, frontiers, and pension to the United Nations from property losses due to the war.

In the meeting of the deputies on Germany, meanwhile, a spokesman for the small western nations entitled to reparations from Germany charged that the big powers had failed to live up to Potsdam promises on reparations, and had produced only "paltry results" in deliveries from enemy capital equipment to date.

This charge and an appeal to speed up deliveries were made as the ministers themselves prepared to pass on Secretary of State Marshall's proposal that they come to grips at once with the three key issues involved in the restoration of German economic unity.

The whole reparations questions is deeply involved in that question.

Marshall Wants Action

It was learned on high authority that Marshall was determined to force an early showdown on the critical German issues, in an effort to discover upon what basis, if any, Russia was willing to make acceptable agreements.

That was said to be the strategy behind Marshall's proposal last night to focus discussion in the immediate future upon what he considers the three key problems and to set April 2 as a "target date" for decisions or deadlines on these questions—German economic unity, provisional government, and division of industry and reparations.

In line with this strategy, informant said, the secretary can be expected to suggest other deadlines as the conference progresses. They added that if the lack of accomplishment continued—and they saw good reason to think it would—then he probably would move to Lewis and Clark negotiations aimed at peace treaties with Germany and Austria—and go home toward the middle of April. If prospects of doing something constructive brighten, he was reported willing to remain a reasonable time.

Bridge Committees Will Meet on Tuesday

A luncheon meeting of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge steering and membership committees has been called for Tuesday at 12:30 p. m., in Kingston. William C. Kingman, general chairman of the committee, George E. Yerry, Jr., and Lewis Winne, chairman respectively of the steering committees in Ulster and Dutchess counties and F. J. K. Ertel, chairman of the membership committee, have called the meeting for the purpose of planning the appreciation dinner to be held in Rhinebeck some time the latter part of April. Other matters connected with the bridge also will be discussed.

Members of the committees are: Steering committee—William C. Kingman, George E. Yerry, Jr., Thomas Bohan, John Sauer, Donald Williams, secretary and treasurer, Ulster county; Lewis Winne, Oakleigh Cookingham, John Cresswell, William Peck, Dutchess county. Membership committee—F. J. K. Ertel, Stanton Tremper and Louis B. Steketee, publicity chairman.

Reports Collyer On Broadway, but Cops Disprove It

Youth Willing to Wager $10 He Saw Recluse; Police Find Man Was Local

The search for Langley Collyer, eccentric New York recluse, which has extended from the Manhattan subways to virtually everywhere else but Antarctica, reached Kingston today, but without avail.

The short-lived search began here this morning when a young man walked into police headquarters and excitedly explained to Acting Police Lieutenant William J. Leonard that he saw a man fitting Collyer's description walking along Central Broadway below the postoffice.

Det. Sergeant James P. Martin immediately notified patrolmen of the area and Lt. Leonard suggested that the young man who supplied the information meet Officer William Messing near the postoffice and accompany him until they overtook the man.

Would Bet 10 Bucks

The informant said he would be willing to bet "ten bucks" that the man he saw was Collyer so close in his mind was the resemblance. He noted, he said, that the man walking along Broadway, carried what appeared to be a box of crackers under one arm and that he even "wore his pants" in the same manner he had seen Collyer's in newspaper pictures.

Within 10 minutes after the young man left to meet Officer Messing, however, Sergeant Martin was notified that the man in question was a local resident well known to the police.

Under Tension

Tension mounted at police headquarters during the brief interim of the search as the police and Chief Ernest A. Boss weighed the prospects of catching the man who has been the object of an intensified search in the Metropolitan area for several days. The officers appeared convinced that the description of the man was not too unlike that of Collyer, and as it turned out, it was close, but not close enough.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported today that the funeral service for Homer Collyer, blind and crippled brother of the still missing Langley Collyer, has been set for 3 p. m., Tuesday at a Manhattan funeral home.

"Only relatives will be admitted to the service," John B. McMullen, lawyer for the brothers, said last night.

Burial will be in the family plot in Cypress Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Homer Collyer, 65, was found dead of natural causes a week ago yesterday in the one-time mansion

Local Telephone Operators Observed Family Night

Telephone operators at the Kingston office of the New York Telephone Company proved most gracious hosts, while doing business as usual, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings when Family Night was observed. Members of the local Traffic Department escorted approximately 1,200 throughout the building explaining the switchboards and their operations and answering questions. Other facilities, including the rest rooms, locker rooms and kitchen were included in the tour. Refreshments were served the guests in the luncheonroom.

Mary A. Keefe, chief operator, welcomed families of the employees and Helen M. Barry and Adelaide R. Gilbert were chairman and assistant chairman respectively of the Employees' Committee.

It was brought out during the course of explanation that the Kingston telephone office requires

Decision to Be Made Whether Closing Will Be Permanent

Kingston banking institutions will close all day Saturday beginning May first and extending through September. Prior to the expiration of that period another meeting of the bankers will be held to determine whether or not the Saturday closing will become permanent.

The matter of hours to be observed on Friday has not been decided upon and action will be taken individually by the governing bodies of the banks at their next meeting to decide upon what hours shall become effective on Friday.

A meeting of the presidents of the banking houses, or their representatives, was held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Kingston Trust Company and at that time the matter of closing Saturdays was discussed as well as the hours to be observed on Fridays.

The Saturday closing beginning May first was the unanimous choice of the meeting but it was stated that there was a difference of opinion as to the hours which should be observed Fridays. Some banks were in favor of closing the usual time, others were of the opinion that banks should be open later on Fridays and no decision was made in regard to that question, it being left up to the individual action of the directors.

The Saturday closing will be observed, beginning May first, by all commercial and savings banks and the two savings and loan associations.

Will Use Expose

If various members pool their ideas, the committee may report that it can fight Communism vigorously to expose it and also by:

Franco on the Wane

Madrid, March 29 (AP)—An authoritative source said today the Spanish cabinet is expected to issue a decree Tuesday declaring Spain a "traditional monarchy," and in effect, recognizing the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco as merely a temporary one. This informant said that while the cabinet discussed the decree last night it probably would not make any announcement until April 1, Spain's Victory Day, the eighth anniversary of Franco's victory in the civil war and his assumption of full power. He said such a decree, when and if announced and made effective, would be the first public acknowledgment by the Franco regime of the "temporary nature of the present government."

Boys Deflate Tires

Complaints that boys were letting air from tires of cars parked in back of the Montgomery & Ward store were under investigation of local police today and Friday. Officer Gerald Every said he was notified last night of the pranks activities of the boys by a man who had chased them from the lot. The police believe it may be the same group of youngsters charged with a similar misdemeanor some time ago.

Everybody Wants Money

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Senators Reed (R-Kan.), and Cordon (R-Ore.), complained today that government agencies are battling every attempt of Congress to whittle down government costs. "The people very definitely voted for economy in government in the last election," Reed told a reporter, "but we have yet to get any real help from any government department, bureau, agency or official." Cordon is chairman of an appropriations subcommittee now reviewing an $882,000,000 cut made by the House in operating funds of the treasury and post-office departments.

Florida Senator Proposes $500 Tax Exemption as Special Relief

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.), proposed today that Congress give special income tax relief to World War 2 veterans who receive no benefits under the G.I. "Bill of Rights."

Rogers, who piloted the terminal pay legislation through the last Congress, estimated 75 per cent of the ex-servicemen get nothing under veterans aid laws, yet must help foot the tax bill for benefits received by the remaining 25 per cent.

He said he has no specific legislation in mind but is obtaining data on the effect of a possible $500 additional income tax exemption for such veterans.

Kerhonkson's Otto Clippers, one of the "name" quintets in the tournament, were equally effective from scrimmage and the conversion stripe to subdue a hard fighting Kingston Pioneer squad.
Kerhonkson led 22-19 at the half and was hard pressed to win when Van Derzee and Armstrong made a spirited bid to put the Pioneers back in the game. The winners scored 14 times from the field and converted a similar total of fouls. Top scorers were Green with 14 points and D. Terwilliger with ten.

St. Mary's Rout Sacred Heart 40 - 27 for Catholic Pennant

St. Mary's had to come from behind to clinch the 1947 City Catholic League title, defeating the Sacred Heart, 40-27, in the championship playoff at the municipal auditorium, after trailing 15-20 at halftime.
The weaker but better organized Sacred Heart team clung to the lead until the St. Mary power began to assert itself in the third quarter.

Form Coughlin led St. Mary's to the pennant with a 30-point spurge, while Ross netted seven and D. McGraw and Thomas threw in six points each. High-scoring honors for the contest went to McCordie, Sacred Heart forward, who scored 12 markers. Van Buren was runnerup for the losers with 9.

The Sacred Heart squad suffered a complete collapse after winning the first round. They were able to take only two games in the second half. St. Mary's rallied after a slow start to reel off eight consecutive victories in the second round.
Jim Madden's ball handling was outstanding for the winners.

Kokomo Clowns Are Booked for Saugerties Court

The popular Kokomo Clowns, one of the oldest semi-pro basketball road attractions, will meet the Saugerties Legion in the second half of the weekly double-header tonight at the municipal auditorium court in Saugerties.
The preliminary at 7:30 pits the Saugerties Legion Blues against the Pioneer A.C. of Kingston.
Holland and MacKenzie, two of Manhattan College's ace performers this season, and Andy Murphy of Kingston will appear in the Saugerties lineup.
According to advance notices, the Clowns have defeated such outstanding clubs as the Long Island Pros, Yankees, Caseys and the Original Renaissance Five, world's Negro champions.

Golden Glove Ace at Newburgh

Al Smith, New York Golden Glove champion who lost a decision to novice Johnny Luciano of Nyack at the Avalon Recreation Center last week, will return to Newburgh Monday to redeem himself.

According to Matchmaker Peter Montesano, Smith has requested that he appear in Newburgh this Monday to prove to the fans that he's "no flash in the pan."
Luciano, a rank outsider, won the fight in the first three rounds when he socked Smith mighty hard. Smith did show some signs of pulling the fight out of the bag in the last two whirled, but the judges awarded a two-one verdict to Luciano.

Johnny Britto, popular Port Chester slugger, will meet Eddie Graham in another featured bout. Britto has been polishing off the amateurs with marked success and will turn pro after fighting at Newburgh Monday.

The Franklin A.A. is also booking Tony Pelizzi, the Jake LaMotte of the amateurs, to meet Elbert Carey of Stewart Field. The popular Stewart Field leader, the pusher will have his work cut out for himself for Pelizzi has an outstanding reputation.

Mac Duff's Win
MacDuff's Five of Kingston defeated Woodstock in basketball, 50-38, on the Woodstock court, running up a 30-8 halftime lead. Woodstock launched a spirited rally in the third quarter, cutting MacDuff lead to 32-21, but the locals regained their stride in the stretch.
George Holstein led MacDuff's with 21 points, with F. Duffy and C. Carter sinking 12 each. Top man for Woodstock was Klein who dropped in 13 points before being banished on personals in the third quarter.

Junior Wonderly Cracks 583 in 'Y' National
"Junior" Wonderly, a youngster with a golf future, demonstrated bowling talents in the "Y" National League this week with a rousing 229 single and 583 series, as the Wonderly klegers dropped two games to Elstons.
Eltinge Auchmoody posted 504 as Matthews won from Boice Day No. 2. The Ulster Foundry won the old set from Boice No. 1, Don Weeks shooting 481. R. Woolsey had 204-536 for Boice's.
Stan Winne clicked 561 as the Trust Company won a split decision over Canfields. High man for the losers was Hornbeck with 431.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM
Or . . . everybody wants to get into the act (with apologies to Jimmy Durante) . . . The 1947 All-DUSO basketball squad will be named next week by the Hudson Valley Sportswriters Association. . . . Pete Perrino, Middletown's mighty bowling mite, knocked off another 700 series last week, 233, 242, 226 for 701. . . . Three Kingston youths—Matthew Weishaupt, 520 Delaware avenue; Joseph B. Shattan, 326 Washington avenue; and Joseph D. Scholar, Jr., of 196 Clifton avenue—are members of a team that plays the intramural basketball championships at Champlain College, Plattsburgh, N. Y., last week. . . . The team was known as the Kingston Five and won 11 out of 12 games in regular competition and defeated the winners of the two other leagues for the Champlain title. . . . Gerald W. Hilly, of Liberty Square, Ellenville, also is a member of the team in the 24-team league, with averages of 12 points per game. . . . Weishaupt and Shattan were among the seven highest scorers.

HUNTER, SPARE THAT FOX! Not being a nimrod, we have always believed that snoring the elusive fox was the piece de resistance in a hunter's career. . . . A letter from the recently organized Ulster County Foxhunters Association sheds new light on the subject and we're passing it along for your edification. . . . The communication states: "Each year in many sections of the country at the close of the various small-game seasons, the fox comes in for the usual unfair, periodic attacks recommending his extermination."

"With this thought in mind a group of sportsmen interested in foxhounds and fox hunting met in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Modena, and organized the society known as the Ulster County Foxhunters Association. Membership includes hunters from Newburgh, Kingston, Montgomery, Wallkill, Plattekill, Milton, New Paltz, Highland, Ohioville, Modena, Ardonia, and Gardiner, N. Y., and Westwood, N. J.

"The purpose of this organization is to promote the fox as a game animal from a sporting standpoint and as an asset to the farmer and sportsman from an economic standpoint, rather than the game-killing, chicken-stealing, epidemic-spreading scoundrel that he is reputed to be."

The next meeting of this organization will be held in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall on Tuesday, April 22. An invitation is extended to anyone interested to attend. Move over, Brother Fox, you ain't a bay guy, after all.

OF MEN AND MICE: The Colonial Baseball League has approved a May 7 opening—five days after the North Atlantic inaugural. Night games will be played Poughkeepsie to Bridgeport, Port Chester, N. Y., to New London, Conn., and Stamford, Conn. to Waterbury, Conn. in the Class B competition. Poughkeepsie's home opener is scheduled on May 8. The league schedule comprises 130 games, including nine Sunday doubleheaders for each home team. Holiday games will be played on a home-and-home basis, with the season ending on September 7. Ken Strong, the famous football professional, is the league president.

MAYHAP A DREAM—or better still, a consummation devoutly to be wished. That's Howard DeFreitas' hopes that the DUSO League and Poughkeepsie High will bury the hatchet and resume athletic competition on a league basis. DeFreitas, the brilliant young sports editor of the Middletown Times Herald, is president of the Hudson Valley Sportswriters Association, not so long ago arranged a meeting between Poughkeepsie and DUSO officials. It was hoped at the time that friendly relations could be restored between the two institutions. The cost of the dinner almost depleted the scant treasury of the sportswriters group but DeFreitas felt that it would be a good investment if the two rival factions could be brought together. So far, the DUSO Council has stood on its frosty dignity, insisting that Poughkeepsie make formal application for re-entry into the league. After all, they tell you didn't Poughkeepsie drop out of its own volition twenty years ago?????

But sports ed DeFreitas is a man with faith in his one great mission. Let's delve into the inner recesses of his mind and watch what makes it tick. . . . "The Hudson Valley Sportswriters Association may not have drained its treasury in vain. Monticello will play Poughkeepsie a single game in baseball at Poughkeepsie this spring and the Monties have booked a home and home basketball series with the Bridge City school for next winter. . . . Kingston has already resumed football relations with the former DUSO League member, so it would seem that the DUSO-Pokey get-together which the scribes effected at Kingston last December is bearing fruit.

" . . . How about Middletown taking on Poughkeepsie in football next fall? . . . The fans and the boys would like it. . . . If things continue to go along this way, we wouldn't be too surprised to see a DUSO committee and Pokey authorities get together, this to be followed by a formal application from the school on the east bank of the Hudson. . . . It wouldn't take too much to get Pokey to apply. . . . Any sign from the league that the school would be welcome undoubtedly would turn the trick.

Bob Hanley Blasts 691 Series; Joneses Annex Pair in Walden

Bob "300" Hanley, Jones Day No. 1 leadoff who has been smoking hot in the last two weeks, battered a tremendous 691 series last night, as the Dayriens won two games from the rugged Walden team in a Hudson Valley League match in Walden.
Hanley reeled off a consistent string of 222, 227 and 242. An "8-10 pocket split" in the ninth frame of the third game deprived him of a big 700 series.

The Joneses, completing their road campaign, knocked off games of 948, 1012 and 1015 for a 2975 series, highest on the Walden drives this season. Harold Broskie, contending for second place in the averages, bolstered his position with 238-630.

Joneses have one more match remaining at home, while Newburgh Paladins, still game behind up to last night, still have nine games to roll.
Buddy Van Amburgh, Walden leadoff, sparked the home club with 652 on 213-223-216.

Koslo Beats Melton
San Francisco, March 29 (AP)—Dave Koslo of the New York Giants won a pitcher's duel with Cliff Melton of the San Francisco Seals, a former Giant, as the Coastal League nipped the Coast League club 1 to 0 last night before a crowd of 12,274. Koslo gave up eight hits to Melton's four. After seven scoreless innings, Koslo singled in the eighth and was pushed around the bases to score on a sacrifice, an infield out and a bloopy single by Clint Hartung.

Pauline Betz Wins
Cannes, France, March 29 (AP)—Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, Calif., U. S. national and Wimbledon outdoor champion and national indoor queen, yesterday defeated Defense Salvat of France 6-2, 6-3 in the women's singles quarter-finals of the Beaulieu-Sur-Mer tennis tournament.

Ulster-Greene Tournament May Shift to Auditorium

Special arrangements have been completed to transfer the final games of the Ulster-Greene basketball tournament if the attendance warrants such a move, tournament officials said this morning.
The final bracket of play is scheduled to start on Tuesday, April 1.

Meanwhile the tempo of the competition is expected to be stepped up with three standout cagers on tonight's slate. The newly crowned city champions—Veterans of Foreign Wars—51-48 victors over Marlborough, face a tough intra-city rival in Potter Brothers. Potters defeated Saugerties in their opener 32-22. Both teams have every player available for this game, as the loser automatically goes into the consolation bracket.

Milton's Packers, 47-43 winners over a classy Athens five, are picked to give the favored Kingston American Legion a real battle. This is another game where one of two powerhouses will drop by the wayside.

Marlborough is the choice over Kingston Gulnick in the consolation bracket. The southern Ulster cagers carried the powerful Veterans of Foreign Wars to the last three minutes of the game before bowing out 51-48. On the basis of that performance they rate the nod over the scrappy Gulnick.

Texas Wesleyan Cagers Top Nation's Scorers

New York, March 29 (AP)—Flipping 255 field goals and 215 free throws through the net in 33 games, Cliff McNeely, of Texas Wesleyan won the 1947 national intercollegiate individual scoring basketball race with 725 points. This is 82 points more than the 643 with which Bob Kurand, of the Oklahoma Aggies, won the title a year ago, and 133 more than 592 Vince Hanson, of Washington State, scored in taking the 1945 crown.

McNeely, the nation's top scorer virtually from the start of the season, lost a chance to break the one-season scoring record of 777 points when Texas Wesleyan was eliminated early in the N.A.I.B. tourney at Kansas City. Unfortunately, too, he missed several games in mid-season because of an injured ankle.

Hustlers Defeated In Disputed Game

The Kingston Hustlers closed out their 1946-47 basketball season by dropping a disputed 50-55 decision in overtime to the Amrod Aces of Saugerties. The regulation contest ended 44-44.

A Hustler official said there was considerable disagreement regarding the time keeping. He declared that with only two seconds remaining, the Hustlers held a one-point lead and charges that the time keeper failed to blow his whistle. The game continued, he said, after considerable argument and Saugerties won out.

Lawrence, Hustler forward, was high scorer of the game, with Christiano sinking 12. Sass and Ryan had 10 each for the Hustlers.

The boxscore:
Hustlers (50)—Lawrence f 20, Jordan f 6, Sass f 10, Ryan c 10, Johnson g 0, Munson j 2, Branney g 2.
Saugerties Amrod (55)—Doyle f 7, Wolsen f 2, Christiana f 12, Coif c 15, Heiber g 8, Amrod g 0, Loerzel g 9, Donlon g 2.

AN IMPORTANT JOB
One of the most important jobs we have today is to bring together the young people of all nations so they may learn to understand each other and to work together. One graphic example of the way in which the young people all over the world are learning to know each other is the International Encampment of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts which will be held at Camp Barre, Barre, Pennsylvania this summer.

At the encampment one Girl Scout from each of forty foreign countries and one girl from each state in the United States will meet and talk, work and play together for three weeks. They will learn what the other girls are thinking, how they live and what they aspire to. As they return to their respective countries and communities, each girl will take back to her sister Scouts at home the stories, experience and lessons of world communal living. Surely this is the basis of real international understanding, a considerable step in the direction of ultimate world peace.

If you believe that the future of the world lies in the hands of the youth today, you can help our young people now and further the peace of tomorrow.
The Ulster County Girl Scout Council had 1,202 registered Girl Scouts including its 260 adults. In order to defray the operating expenses of the council for the present year, the Council will conduct a finance drive for $12,000. The campaign, which will be held from April 14 to 25, will give all an opportunity to share in this work.

MISUSE OF BICYCLES
In the current drive to impress young bicyclists with the dangers of pedaling on the city streets, emphasis also should be placed on the fact that it is no more lawful or considerate to operate bicycles on the sidewalks than to do so with an automobile. It is no more lawful or considerate to park a bicycle in the middle of the sidewalk than to park an automobile there.

To drop wheels regardless in the middle of the sidewalk is a direct peril to pedestrians, especially when there are many about. Some person window shopping or conversing with a companion is likely to fall into the wheel and be badly hurt.
We hope it isn't true that the United Nations are growing less so.

Seems as if the human race gets ahead mostly by turning around and backing up.

DEAR SIR
Why write "Dear Sir" in business letters? A Chicago artist, E. Willis Jones, thinks there is no good reason, and has organized a "Society for Abolishing 'Dear' in Business Letters." He would start out in the most direct manner possible, as "Bill," or "Mr. Smith."

A good many formalities have been shed during the ages. Once every merchant subscribed his name, "Your obedient servant." Letters from English business men occasionally continue this practice. Maybe, as the tempo of life speeds up, "Dear Sir" will follow "I have the honor to subscribe myself" into the limbo of discontinued customs.

THE OTHER CHURCHILL
Winston Churchill dead, and no streamer headlines? This is because it is not the bulldog former English premier who recently died, but his American namesake, the popular novelist of 30 to 50 years ago. So much better was the writer known than that the Briton used to write his name in full, Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill.

Those days have gone.
Though less famous now, the American was still a man of achievement. His novels—"Richard Carvel," "The Crisis," "The Crossing" and others—portrayed admirably vital periods of our history. In "Coniston" and "Mr. Crow's Career" he depicted boassism in

'These Days'
By George E. Sokolsky

IDEOLOGICAL WARFARE
This era has produced many types of warfare to which the human race is unaccustomed. Total war was practiced in ancient times when entire populations were put to the sword, but in modern warfare the soldier pays least in life or blood. When all the casualties of this recent war are tallied, it will beyond doubt be found that civilians, women and children and even future generations, paid a higher price than those who wore uniforms.

Nor do wars end these days with a victory and a defeat, an armistice and a treaty. They continue indefinitely and interminably. Ideological warfare is most active at the present moment and against that the President hurled the Truman Doctrine. Under ideological warfare, countries collapse in the sense that their traditional ways of life succumb to utterly new and, to the people, incomprehensible dogma. It is absurd to suppose, for example, that the millions of Southern Europeans, steeped for 20 centuries in Christian dogma and practice, have suddenly forsaken the ways of their ancestors and have accepted the dogma of Karl Marx and the prophesy of Lenin and Stalin. Yet that absurdity has actually taken place in lands that were hitherto bastions of order, discipline, confusion and ideological penetration.

Stalin said, in Pravda, on March 14, 1923, "The Bolsheviks... planned along the line of internal consolidation of the dictatorship of the proletariat in Russia and the extension of the sphere of action of the proletarian revolution to all the countries of the world."
Then he quotes Lenin:
"To achieve the utmost possible in one (our own) country for the development, support and stirring up of the revolution in all countries."
It is this world revolution that we now face in an advanced stage. Much of Europe has already assumed to be completely won by the remaining democratic countries, the acceptance of a new philosophy and the dogmatic biological concept of man whose morals are no more than reflexes conditioned by environment so weakens tradition as to remove the bastions of civilization. It is not impossible for ideological penetration to succeed even in the United States.

With the president, which he too quickly deserted, President Roosevelt inserted an anti-ideological clause in his treaty with Lituvinoff. Neither country was to engage in such activities in the other. Actually, Soviet Russia erected an Iron Wall against us by policing the mentality of its people; we opened our portals wide for their entrance into our schools, universities, magazines, theatre, newspapers, movies and radio. We welcomed their penetration.

Herbert Hoover, at the time of the San Francisco Conference, raised this issue but was ignored. He said:
"Aggression in this world is not confined to the old-fashioned threats or to military action or even to economic pressures. Our experience with the Nazis who infiltrated their poisonous propaganda and fifth columns into the lands of peaceful neighbors should indicate that there is a new form of aggression in the world."
Theodore Roosevelt, San Francisco Charter should agree upon a definition of aggression to include direct or indirect subsidized government propaganda in other nations. The enforcement of such a provision would help cure that cause of wars which grows out of crusading faith, political or otherwise.

Yet these are the problems that we face today and which we can no longer ignore. Take, for instance, the conduct of Eugene Dennis before the Committee on Un-American Activities of the House of Representatives. Dennis is a native American. It is not merely truculence that impelled him to flout the authority of Congress; it was the acceptance of another authority for which he will risk martyrdom. His high authority is the world revolution directed from the Kremlin and claiming adherents throughout the world.

Eugene Dennis has become a professional fighter in the world revolution. The official Communist figures for the United States show 74,000 members, but this does not include Fellow-Travelers who may total up to 4,000,000. It is interesting to note that there are 100,000 members in the Popular Front (Communist) Party of Cuba 152,000 members and to the Communist Party of Brazil 130,000 members. Altogether, the Communists claim 18,592,300 ardent servants of world revolution according to the teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin. A formidable host!

That Body of Yours

MENTAL DISEASE
A short time ago I referred a patient to a mental specialist for treatment. As this specialist had been the mental specialist at our base hospital in World War I, I had great confidence in him. When next I met him I asked his diagnosis on the case I had referred to him. "Oh, I've stopped putting names on the diseases of patients because there can be intermixtures of symptoms and I just treat the symptoms."

Notwithstanding this specialist's statement he and other mental specialists—psychiatrists—do put a name on a disease where a group of symptoms are most pronounced.
In his book Fundamentals of Psychiatry Dr. Edward A. Strecker, Professor of Psychiatry, University of Pennsylvania, classifies mental diseases as organic, toxic or functional.

1. An organic psychosis (mental disease) is one in which the main cause is a disturbance of the brain tissues and vessels. Paralysis or stroke of apoplexy is an example.
2. A toxic psychosis is one in which the actual mental disturbance is due to a poison from outside or inside the body. Thus an "outside" poisoning or intoxication would be alcohol and an "inside" poisoning or intoxication would be from the poison from pneumonia causing patient to be delirious.
3. A functional psychosis or psychoneurosis is one in which there does not seem to be any disturbance of the structure of the brain, nor any toxicity or poison from outside or inside, yet actual mental symptoms are present. Examples of functional psychoses are: hysteria, anxiety and neurasthenia (mental and physical tiredness), obsessions (feelings that compel the patient to do wrong or foolish things).

However Dr. Strecker says these three forms of mental disease cannot always be kept in an exact or rigid classification because there may be a very slight disturbance of the brain substance or a very slight amount of poisoning from outside or inside. This may explain why the name "functional" disease is used in so many cases.

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." Bonnets on Greeting Cards

Maxine Taylor Does Novelty Greeting Cards With Original Hat Designs as New Hobby

A "perfect passion for hats," led Miss Maxine Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor, 46 Fairmont avenue, into a hobby just a few months ago. "If I can't wear them myself, I can put them on greeting cards," Miss Taylor thought, and so came forth a whole new line of greeting cards mounted with sophisticated miniatures and hats.

In a recent interview, Freeman reporter found that a bit of pastel or plaid ribbon, veiling, velvet, brocade, feathers, or a thing or two of the kind, are used to create the miniature hats. The cards are accomplished with judicious use of fingernail polish. The miniature faces are done in watercolor. Earrings are flecks of gold foil.

Miss Taylor finds ideas for hats in the latest style sheet and advertisements. She draws preliminary pen and ink sketches for facial expressions to fit the hat. About 20 minutes are needed for the entire process.
